

Modifying "My Organiser" View

Wed, 07/20/2011 - 12:24 — plc5700

After Installing Ceptara and evaluating I quickly discovered that the "My Organizer" view might be a great too, I, but something was not quite right about the view.

After Reading

<http://www.ceptara.com/node/363> [1] and <http://www.ceptara.com/node/356> [2]

I discovered that It's all up to a little HTML and Tweeking the properties and parameters of the Outlook View Control.

After doing a little searching i found this:

<http://www.microsoft.com/download/en/details.aspx?displaylang=en&id=4373> [3]

Which turns out to be Microsoft's Documentation of these objects. Unfortunately this is not the best piece of documentaion Microsoft ever did, so you are still left with a little guessing :-(

After a little guessing - I found a few pointers i wan't to share:

- Document / Mail fields are written enclosed in brackets "[]".
- After using the Restriction parameter - the View of the same data in other Microsoft views are sometimes also affected:-()
- height property in the OBJECT html element has to be in pixels:-()

So I'm back to being able to design a few views but nothing really advanced.
